ON THE LEVEL

The vernal equinox this month has us thinking about balance. In our Northern Hemisphere, the spring, or vernal, equinox—March 20 this year—is the time when the sun crosses the equator, giving us equal day and night. In other words, on this day, the hours are in balance. Now, we tend to talk a lot about balance, usually in the context of how much time we spend, the priority we place and the mental effort we expend on work versus our personal lives, but there are other aspects. Lots of us are constantly striving to find equanimity between family time and self time, saving money and spending money, eating healthily versus indulging in treats, giving enough to your partner and giving enough to your kids, getting sufficient sleep and being up all night, screen time and face-to-face time—the list goes on. But how many of us actually achieve that parity? We're willing to bet not that many, or at least, not all at once.

And that's kind of the point, according to experts. The way to find balance is not to slot everything into rigid boxes—work, home, friends, for example—and allot a certain amount of time for each, but instead to realize that, just like the Earth keeps moving, we have to be fluid as well. Balance is steadiness, an even distribution of weight, and because the elements of our lives are in motion, it makes sense that we have to be constantly adjusting, tweaking and revising how much we give to what in order to feel stable.

That's not to say that there aren't techniques to help you find a certain amount of symmetry if you're struggling: Figure out what your values and priorities are; practice mindfulness; get outside into nature; surround yourself with good, supportive friends; be realistic about your time and energy commitments, and plan accordingly. These strategies can help you maintain perspective about what's important.

The bottom line is that however you find balance is worth the effort. Remember—there are only two equinoxes per year; if we manage to do as well as the universe, we think we're doing okay.

SHAPE, YOUR WAY

When it offers the right support, coverage and silhouette, shapewear can give us the confidence to rock an outfit that's been hanging in the closet with the tags still attached. Designed with PerfectCut technology, the new shapewear line from Toronto-based intimates and apparel brand Knix allows us to adjust our undergarments to fit our needs. With just a quick snip along the lines, the leg length can be customized to wear with a shorter hemline and the back can be adapted for your new low-back dress, all without rolling or fraying.

2 Butter me up

A type of clarified butter with roots in India, ghee is commonly used for cooking, but it's also an important part of traditional Ayurvedic medicine, where it's used to soothe burns and nourish dry skin. Canadian beauty brand Ghlee harnesses the healing power of this superfood in its lip balms, masks and scrubs, as well as its newest offering, a pain-relieving balm for muscle aches. Full of omega-3 fatty acids, antioxidants and vitamins, this nourishing range gives a modern twist to this tried-and-true ingredient.

BURST OF HYDRATION

Tangerine, peach, freesia, rose, cedarwood and musk—this combination of intoxicating notes isn't the olfactory profile of a high-end luxury perfume. It's actually the scent of Vaseline's new game-changing Pro VitaB3 Serum-Burst Luminous Glow Lotion. Packed with hydrating lipids, hyaluronic acid and vitamins B3 and E, this serum-lotion hybrid delivers 10 times more antioxidant power than vitamin C for a radiant, healthy-looking glow. We love the soft-as-velvet feel that's left behind with every application.

GOING THROUGH CHANGES

As much as we love TV series with otherworldly sci-fi and fantasy elements (the success of shows like Stranger Things and Game of Thrones proves it!), there's something special about a show with characters that seem just like us and our besties. CBC's new comedy Small Achievable Goals is a hilariously relatable tale of two women in the throes of menopause brought together to produce a podcast. Through dating drama, office politics and health concerns, the duo navigate this phase of life with humour and friendship. Catch the premiere February 25 on CBC and CBC Gem.

9 GET INSPIRED

Mark your calendar—March 8 is International Women's Day! With so many inspirational, powerful women in the world, we have so much to celebrate. The theme for this year, Accelerate Action, encourages quicker and more decisive steps to achieve gender equality across the world.

To reach full gender parity at the current rate of progress, it will take 134 years, and we're all about putting the pedal to the metal to speed up that timeline. For more information and tips on how to support the movement, visit internationalwomensday.com.

CRISPY CHICKEN SPRING SALAD

MAKES 4 SERVINGS

HANDS-ON TIME 20 MINUTES

TOTAL TIME 55 MINUTES

- | | |
|---|---|
| 3/4 cup | all-purpose flour |
| salt and pepper | |
| 3 | eggs |
| 1 cup | panko bread crumbs |
| 1/2 cup | dried bread crumbs |
| 3 tbsp | grated Parmesan cheese (approx) |
| 4 | small chicken breasts |
| vegetable cooking spray | |
| 3 cups | frozen green peas, blanched, and drained well |
| 1 1/2 cups | sugar snap peas (sliced if very large) |
| 5 cups | arugula |
| microgreens | |
| 1/2 cup | roasted chickpeas |
| 1/4 cup | pepitas |
| 1/4 cup | thinly sliced red onion |
| Honey Lemon Vinaigrette (recipe, this page) | |
| grated lemon zest | |
| liquid honey (optional) | |
| lemon wedges | |

Preheat oven to 400°F; line baking sheet with parchment paper. Set aside.

Place flour in bowl and season with salt and pepper; stir to combine. In second bowl, beat eggs. In third bowl, combine panko and dried bread crumbs and grated Parmesan; season with salt and pepper. One at a time, dip chicken breasts in flour, then eggs, then bread crumb mixture, pressing lightly to adhere. Dip again in egg, then in bread crumb mixture to obtain a thick coating. Place breasts on prepared baking sheet and spray with cooking spray. Bake until chicken is cooked through and breading is golden brown and crispy, 30 to 35 minutes. (Place chicken under broiler for a few minutes at the end of baking, if desired.)

Meanwhile, place green and sugar snap peas, arugula, microgreens, chickpeas, pepitas and onion in bowl. A few minutes before chicken is done, pour Honey Lemon Vinaigrette over salad; toss gently to coat. Divide salad among bowls. Slice crispy chicken and serve over salad. Sprinkle with Parmesan and lemon zest, and drizzle with honey, if using. Serve with lemon wedges.

PER SERVING about 845 cal, 50 g pro, 32 g total fat (6 g sat. fat), 89 g carb (12 g dietary fibre, 27 g sugar), 215 mg chol, 600 mg sodium, 8.4 mg iron.

Honey Lemon Vinaigrette In bowl, whisk together 6 tbsp olive oil, 3 tbsp liquid honey, 2 tbsp lemon juice, 1 tbsp each white wine vinegar and Dijon mustard, and 1 small shallot, minced. Season with salt and pepper. Makes 2/3 cup.

Hands, handled

Give your hardworking hands the care they deserve with these easy tips.

TEXT: CHRISTINA ZISKO, WITH FILES FROM KELLY-ANN NEELEY. PHOTOGRAPH: ADOBE STOCK/E (HANDS)

STRETCH OUT

REGULAR STRETCHING CAN HELP KEEP YOUR HANDS, FINGERS AND WRISTS FLEXIBLE AND PAIN-FREE. TRY YOUR HAND AT THESE THREE SIMPLE STRETCHES YOU CAN COMPLETE AT YOUR DESK.

PRAYER STRETCH

1. Place your palms together in front of your face.
2. Pressing your palms together, slowly lower your hands toward your waist, or until you feel a stretch.
3. Hold for 10 to 30 seconds.

PALM UP EXTENDED ARM STRETCH

1. Extend your arm in front of you, palm up.
2. With your free hand, gently pull your fingers back toward your body.
3. Hold for 10 to 30 seconds. Repeat with opposite arm.

PALM DOWN EXTENDED ARM STRETCH

1. Extend your arm in front of you, palm down.
2. Relax your wrist, allowing your fingers to point down.
3. With your free hand, gently pull your fingers forward toward your body.
4. Hold for 10 to 30 seconds. Repeat with opposite arm.

From knitting a scarf, baking cookies and playing the piano to holding your spouse's hand, petting a puppy or cuddling a baby, our hands do a lot for us. To keep your nails, cuticles and skin in tip-top shape, read on.

Our hands are met with all sorts of aggressors day in and day out. At the top of the list? UV rays, both natural and artificial. Much like our face and neck, our hands are more exposed than other parts of the body, leaving them more vulnerable to sun damage.

How many times have you slathered on sunscreen before a day at the beach, only to stop applying at your wrists? The skin on our hands needs SPF protection every day, and, as we wash them more frequently than other parts of the body, a bit of extra attention.

Hands also face other external factors, such as weather (like cold temperatures and dry winds leaving them chapped and red), chemicals (like household cleaning products), pollution, germs, friction and more. While we can't lock ourselves away in fear of these aggressors, we can take small steps to protect our hands.

save the skin

To keep the skin of our hands healthy and happy, daily SPF application is a must. Whether you use your favourite body sunscreen or choose a hand cream with sun protection, this is an essential step in the fight against skin cancer, as well as the hyperpigmentation and loss of collagen and elastin UV rays can cause.

Avoid washing your hands with hot water, which affects their moisture barrier. Warm water will get the job done just as well without stripping beneficial oils. Because of the exposure to hot water, chemicals and detergents while washing dishes and cleaning, wearing gloves during these tasks is another great way to keep your hands protected.

Our product picks

The skin on our hands needs SPF protection every day and, since we wash them more frequently than other parts of the body, a bit of extra attention.

Making moisturizing part of your handwashing routine is also an essential step to hand health, locking in moisture and creating a barrier around your hands. Plus, “well-hydrated skin remains more elastic and is less prone to signs of aging like dark spots and wrinkles,” says Emmanuelle Dieudonné, marketing director and product manager at French beauty company Vitry. Simply keeping a bottle of moisturizer beside your soap dispenser can be enough to remind you to nourish those hands after you cleanse! Speaking of cleansing, opt for gentle formulas containing hydrating ingredients like aloe vera to ensure you’re respecting your skin’s natural oils and lipid barrier every wash.

nail the nail care

Over time, nails often become drier and duller, and growth slows down, making them more vulnerable to breakage and splitting, says Dieudonné. These changes are linked to a decrease in the production of keratin, a key protein in the nail structure. This decrease can lead to thinner, more brittle nails. While some of these changes are inevitable, appearing commonly around menopause, a little extra TLC can keep your nails stronger and more resilient in the long term.

For healthy nails, Dieudonné recommends filing from the outside of the nail to the inside. Start at one corner and work toward the centre with smooth strokes in one direction, then do the same from the other corner. Using a back-and-forth sawing motion to file your nails is a no-no, as it can weaken or split the nail. If one breaks, try to address it as soon as possible to prevent it from snagging and breaking further. Keeping a small nail file or nail clipper in your purse can ensure you’re prepared for when the occasion arises. If you’re a nail polish lover, opt for non-acetone polish removers. They’re gentler and less drying than their acetone-based counterparts.

cue the cuticles

Don’t forget the importance of your cuticles, the thin layer of clear skin at the base of each nail. Its job is to keep dirt, infection and bacteria away from the nails. For this reason, resist the urge to trim them! If you’re plagued with seriously overgrown cuticles, soak them in warm water before pushing them back gently with a cuticle pusher. This is only a cosmetic fix, so if they don’t bother you, it’s best to let your cuticles do their job untouched. However, just like the skin on the rest of our body, nails and cuticles also need moisture to stay healthy. Use a cuticle oil or moisturizer with nourishing ingredients like ceramides or shea butter to pamper and hydrate your fingertips. Bonus: This also helps promote healthy nail growth and prevents hangnails.

face forward

The future of skin-care science is here: Meet Dermabsolu, the pro-aging solution that's clinically proven to nourish, hydrate and reshape the contours of the face.

AVÈNE Dermabsolu Intensive Reshaping Night Cream, $79, eau-thermale-avene.ca.

We all know that getting older shows on our faces. And although experts have come a long way from advising we slather on cold cream every night, we still struggle with aging well, with minimizing wrinkles, dryness, uneven tone and texture, and adapting our routines to our skin's changing needs—while still recognizing the face in the mirror. That's where Dermabsolu comes in.

The Triangle of Youth

Picture a triangle with points on the edges of your cheekbones and the tip of your jaw. That's the Triangle of Youth. When we're young, we have a well-defined jawline and firm, hydrated skin. As we age, the triangle becomes inverted, reflecting lost volume in the cheeks and slackening in the jawline. This diminished collagen, hydration and elasticity transforms the structure of the face. Dermabsolu's innovative Intensive Reshaping Night Cream targets that change with a superhero trio of active ingredients. In just one month, skin is plumped and nourished, and the Triangle of Youth is reshaped.

The Powerhouse Ingredients

Three words: Bakuchiol, pro-ceramides, niacinamide. Bakuchiol (plant-based retinol) is the star in Dermabsolu Intensive Reshaping Night Cream, targeting the skin's structure, boosting collagen production and hyaluronic acid synthesis twice as much as retinol to improve form and density. Pro-ceramides are in charge of nutrition, improving barrier function by prompting the synthesis of ceramides and lipids that ensure skin's integrity and defense against aggressors. Niacinamide's brightening and antioxidant properties come from its ability to regenerate cells and unify the complexion.

The Clinical Studies

Dermabsolu is developed by Avène Dermatological Laboratories, and 33 clinical studies back the efficacy of the line. Ninety percent of trial subjects and the lab's dermatologists reported a resculpting, plumping and densifying effect in just one month of use! The entire Dermabsolu line, in fact, showed just as many visible results. Women who used Dermabsolu Serum, Day Cream and Eye Contour Filler for a month reported significant reduction of wrinkles and dark spots, and improved hydration. Dermabsolu's clinically proven advancements in skin care ensure we can age naturally while still looking our best. Now that's the future of skin care.

What's better than a kit full of high-quality cosmetics? A kit full of high-quality cosmetics that are also budget-friendly! Here are some of our top skin-care, hair-care and makeup picks, all under $30.

MAKEUP

This dual-ended brow product draws precise hair-like strokes to fill in sparse areas, and with just a flip, the eyebrow gel at the opposite end sculpts and sets the hairs in place for all-day wear that holds up against sweat and humidity.

MAYBELLINE NEW YORK Build-A-Brow 2-in-1 Brow Pen and Sealing Gel Eye Makeup, $15, maybelline.ca.

For a bold cat-eye or a precise graphic design, look no further than this waterproof eyeliner. With such great colour payoff, all it takes is one pass over the lid to achieve an intense pigment.

NYX COSMETICS Epic Ink Waterproof Liquid Eyeliner in Graham Cracker, $14, nyxcosmetics.ca.

A concealer that provides full coverage is good, but one that's also comfortable to wear and breathable? That's a winner. Redness, imperfections and dark circles are camouflaged with this product, and the transfer- and fade-resistant formula helps smooth lines and nourish skin.

REVLON ColorStay Flex Wear Full Cover Concealer, $19, shoppersdrugmart.ca.

For a beautiful wide-eyed effect, reach for this mascara that delivers clump-free volume, length and separation for fanned out fringe. Plus, the formula, enriched with cornflower water, is gentle enough for sensitive eyes and contact lens wearers.

YVES ROCHER Cils Miraculeux Mascara, $20, yvesrocher.ca.

Make a statement every time you swipe on this pretty pink hue. In addition to bold colour, this lipstick is infused with vitamins A and C to deliver a delightfully nourished pout.

MILANI COSMETICS Color Statement Lipstick in Fruit Punch, $11, milanicosmetics.com.

FACE CARE

Formulated with soothing aloe vera, this facial exfoliator gently buffs sensitive skin to reveal a smoother, more radiant complexion. Dirt, impurities and dead skin cells are sloughed away without overdrying the skin, making this perfect for reactive skin types.

BURT'S BEES Gentle Face Scrub, $12.50, burtsbees.ca.

Whether you apply it under makeup or on its own, this lightweight SPF protects against UV rays while pampering the skin with hyaluronic acid, Kakadu plum and vitamin E. The formula is super comfortable and easy to wear, so there's no reason to skip this essential part of your skin-care routine!

NAKED SUNDAYS CabanaClear Water Gel Serum SPF 50, $25, shoppersdrugmart.ca.

Add this toner to your evening skin-care routine to promote seriously smooth skin. Glycolic acid provides the exfoliation, while a Tasmanian pepperberry derivative soothes.

THE ORDINARY Glycolic Acid 7% Exfoliating Toner, $10.50, theordinary.com.

Made with sensitive skin in mind, this oat facial cleanser is recognized by the Canadian Dermatology Association for being fragrance-free, non-comedogenic, gentle on skin and made without common allergens. The result is calm skin with a strong moisture barrier that feels as good as it looks.

AVEENO Calm + Restore Nourishing Oat Cleanser, $17.50, well.ca.

Get the hydration your face craves with this skin-loving hyaluronic acid serum. Skin is left with a dewier, brighter appearance and the product's plumping action minimizes the look of fine lines for a smoothing effect.

GRACE & STELLA Hyaluronic Acid Serum, $24, amazon.ca.

When dry, tight skin rears its ugly head, let this lotion be your go-to. The soothing formula made with niacinamide, panthenol and glycerin restores your skin's moisture barrier in just seven days for a healthy, comfortable visage. What's more, you can also use it on your body for the same skin-saving benefits.

CETAPHIL Moisturizing Lotion, $14.50, cetaphil.ca.

BODY CARE

Say goodbye to bumpy, rough texture with a body wash that cleanses and exfoliates at the same time. A blend of alpha hydroxy acids tackles dead skin for a smoother look and feel without breaking the bank.

NATURIUM The Smoother Glycolic Acid Body Wash, $22, shoppersdrugmart.ca.

Give this ultra-light lotion a shake to emulsify the formula before applying in circular motions to reap its moisturizing benefits. Although the product is oil-based, it soaks right in without leaving behind a greasy residue, meaning you can use it morning and night without worrying about your clothing or bedsheets.

BIO-OIL Body Lotion, $20, walmart.ca.

Everyday cleaning and frequent washing can do a number on the skin of your hands. Comfort irritated and dry skin with phytoceramides, hyaluronic acid, vitamin E and argan oil, which nourish, repair and protect the hands with daily use.

OMY LABORATOIRES
Repair Hand Cream, $16, omycosmetics.com.

The name says it all—treat your mane to 20 (yes, 20!) benefits with every spray of this hair-care workhorse. Protect against heat damage, tame flyaways, fight frizz, detangle and so much more with a treatment that replaces a host of products in your arsenal.

MATRIX Miracle Creator Multi-Tasking Treatment, $25, chatters.ca.

HAIR CARE

A light gardenia scent characterizes this handy dry shampoo that helps us space out our washes. It not only absorbs excess oil, but also helps protect our hair against environmental stressors with hydrolyzed keratin. Bonus: The can is recyclable!

MONDAY HAIRCARE Original Dry Shampoo, $10, walmart.ca.

Jojoba seed oil moisturizes and antioxidant-rich sea buckthorn pampers your lengths and scalp in just five minutes. If your hair's in serious need of moisture, this nourishing mask is for you.

AMIIKA Soulfood Nourishing Mask, $26, loveamika.ca.

Get drawn in by the intoxicating vanilla scent but stay for the boost of moisture and shine. We're big fans of this nourishing conditioner that restores dry, dull hair to its former glory at an accessible price point.

CAROL'S DAUGHTER Black Vanilla Luscious Moisture Conditioner, $15, carolsdaughter.com.

TRENCH TALES

It's that time of year, when the weather's unpredictable and transitional pieces are a must. With its ideal blend of design and function, a trench coat will take you from a cool morning to a rainy afternoon in style.

This form-fitting cut accentuates your shape, lengthens the look of your legs and—our favourite—goes with just about everything, making it oh-so easy to style.

Worn with narrow jeans, pointy-toe pumps lengthen the silhouette. Dress up your skinnies with a top that boasts metallic hardware like this denim number, and choose chunky jewellery in a similar tone for extra shine. It's a sophisticated aesthetic for a night on the town.

ONE HOUR FOR EARTH

On March 22, from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m. (local time), people around the world will celebrate Earth Hour. Since 2007, this movement has invited us to switch off the lights and come together to protect our planet. Not only is it a time to reflect on the climate crisis and loss of nature, but it's also an opportunity to put our technological devices down and connect with friends and family. It's just one small action, but when performed with millions of people worldwide, it can make a big difference!

COMMON GROUND

Our annual roundup of the top literary trends you'll see this year—we promise you'll love them all!

PRODUCER SUZANNE MOUTIS

TREND: The Past Comes Calling

We all know that, in the book world, secrets never stay buried, and searching for answers has been fodder for the best stories for centuries. The trend is front and centre this year with a collection of novels that place main characters returning home or venturing far afield and finding lies in what they thought was truth. Dig into the hidden family depths in these new and upcoming books.

The Day I Left You

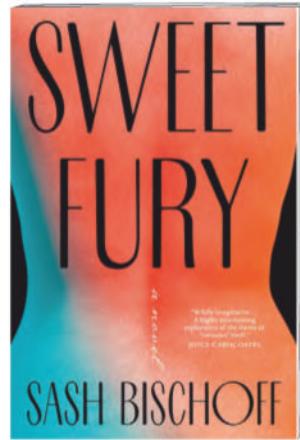

HISTORICAL FICTION (Simon & Schuster Canada) by Caroline Bishop, $25 FEBRUARY 18

The Tiger and the Cosmonaut
FICTION (Viking Canada) by Eddy Boudel Tan, $27 APRIL 29

The Story She Left Behind
LITERARY FICTION (Simon & Schuster Canada) by Patti Callahan Henry, $26 MARCH 4

The Resistance Painter
HISTORICAL FICTION (Simon & Schuster Canada) by Kath Jonathan, $25 MARCH 25

A Killing Cold THRILLER
(Flatiron Books) by Kate Alice Marshall, $39 FEBRUARY 4

TREND: Vengeance is Hers

Revenge can be sweet, and in these novels it's a dish served stone cold—even if there's some angsty romance on the side. This year starts off strong with female characters—actors and warriors and spies and more—who are laser-focused on their own form of justice. Prepare for the power of women who roar in these new and upcoming releases.

Sweet Fury THRILLER

(Simon & Schuster) by Sash Bischoff, $28 JANUARY 7

Four Ruined Realms
FANTASY (Entangled)

by Mai Corland, $44 JANUARY 7

Bad Nature LITERARY FICTION (Henry Holt & Co.) by Ariel Courage, $39 APRIL 1

The Night Sparrow
HISTORICAL FICTION

(HarperCollins Publishers) by Shelly Sanders, $26 APRIL 1

Ace, Marvel, Spy HISTORICAL FICTION (Harper Muse) by Jenni L. Walsh, $24 FEBRUARY 13

TREND: Fiction From Fact

Stories that use real events for inspiration resonate with readers and writers, adding context and fresh perspectives, or just taking the 'truth is stranger than fiction' model as a base. That resonance is especially vibrant when the past is also personal, as in 2024's The Storm We Made by Vanessa Chan and Mark Blagrave's Felt, which weave in the authors' own family experiences. Go beyond the history books in these new and upcoming releases.

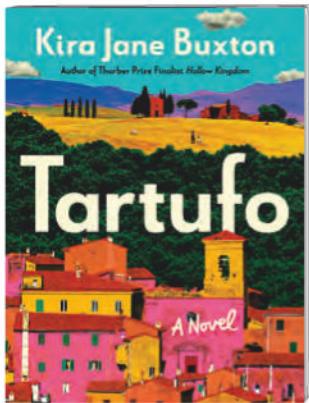

Harriet Tubman: Live in Concert FICTION (Gallery Books) by Bob the Drag Queen, $37 MARCH 25

The Paris Express HISTORICAL FICTION (HarperAvenue) by Emma Donoghue, $35 MARCH 18

The Pretender HISTORICAL FICTION (Knopf Canada) by Jo Harkin, $36 APRIL 22

We Would Never LITERARY FICTION (Avid Reader Press) by Tova Mirvis, $39 FEBRUARY 11

The Girl from Greenwich Street HISTORICAL FICTION (William Morrow) by Lauren Willig, $36 MARCH 4

TREND: Escapism? I'm In!

Literary wit and wisdom never goes amiss when the world looks a bit grim. And with the uncertainty we're all feeling these days, what could be better than a book that puts a smile on your face? This trend covers everything from discovering giant truffles in Italy to an obituary of an off-beat mom to the culmination of all our romantasy dreams (How can we resist you, Onyx Storm?). Find your next five-star read in one of these new and upcoming releases.

Tartufo CONTEMPORARY FICTION

(Grand Central Publishing) by Kira Jane Buxton, $38 JANUARY 28

Babylonia HISTORICAL FICTION

(HarperCollins Publishers) by Costanza Casati, $27 JANUARY 15

Dirtbag Queen MEMOIR

(Grand Central Publishing) by Andy Corren, $39 JANUARY 14

We've Decided to Go in a Different Direction

ESSAYS (Gallery Books) by Tessa Sanchez, $39 APRIL 1

Three Days in June LITERARY FICTION

(Alfred A. Knopf) by Anne Tyler, $28 FEBRUARY 11

TREND: Fresh Horror

Vampires, beasts, witches and ghosts: Scary, yes, but in the newish iteration of horror novels, it's palatable—really!

Far from the slasher/over-the-top pulp novels of a generation ago, today's authors are following the more sophisticated, literary path laid down by genre-giant Stephen King to create well-rounded, gothic-inspired novels that leave you satisfyingly unsettled. Get your chills from one of these new and upcoming releases.

The Buffalo Hunter

HISTORICAL HORROR (Simon & Schuster Canada) by Stephen Graham Jones, $37 MARCH 18

Witchcraft for Wayward Girls

FANTASY HORROR (Berkley) by Grady Hendrix, $40 JANUARY 14

HISTORICAL HORROR (Sourcebooks) by Johanna van Veen, $27 MARCH 27

Listen to Your Sister THRILLER

HORROR (St. Martin's Press) by Neena Viel, $25 FEBRUARY 4

TREND: Found in Translation

We're casting a wide net for reading material this year. While translations of Scandinavian crime books and Japanese and Korean novels have been steadily on the rise, 2025 will see more of those, as well as Latin American and South American books. We're excited to discover what these different cultural perspectives can bring to our TBR list. Look beyond your usual book borders with one of these new and upcoming releases.

The Unworthy HORROR

(Scribner) by Agustina Bazterrica, Sarah Moses (trans.), $26 MARCH 4

The Katharina Code THRILLER

(Simon & Schuster Canada) by Jørn Lier Host, Anne Bruce (trans.), $27 JANUARY 21

(Hogarth) by Christina Rivera Garza, Robin Myers and Sarah Booker (trans.), $38 FEBRUARY 25

TREND: Conversation Starters

If you're a reader who likes to be educated and have passionate intellectual discussions about the things you've learned, 2025 is your year. There's a host of intriguing books—both fiction and non—from unforgettable voices that shine a light on topics such as AI, unreliable news, the West's role in the world, gossip, North American Nazis and reconciling life after the unthinkable happens. Explore the zeitgeist in these new and upcoming books.

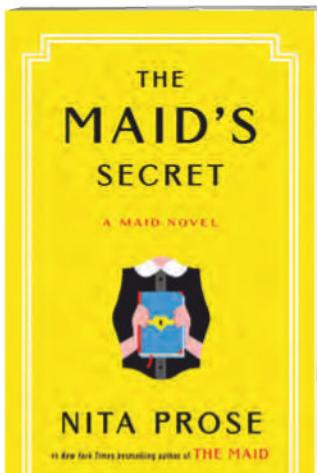

Universality LITERARY FICTION (Alfred A. Knopf Canada) by Natasha Brown, $34 MARCH 4
One Day Everyone Will Have Always Been Against This SOCIAL JUSTICE (McClelland & Stewart) by Omar El Akkad, $36 FEBRUARY 25

Codename: Pale Horse: How I Went Undercover to Expose America's Nazis MEMOIR (Atria Books) by Scott Payne with Michelle Shephard, $39 MARCH 25

TREND: Agatha, Always

The Queen of Crime is forever in fashion—the mystery entries in 2025 prove that. From locked rooms and isolated locations to tricky solutions and quirky sleuths, cozies are taking a page (haha!) from the playbook of the iconic Detection Club (five members star in Marie Benedict's The Queens of Crime!). Channel the Golden Age of Detective Fiction in one of these new and upcoming releases.

TREND: Self-Discovery

Coming of age is often thought of as something you do as you transition from pre-teen to teen or teen to adult, but the reality is that for women, especially, discovering who we are is an ongoing exploration that happens over a lifetime. These books reflect that, with authors and characters that are finally happy in their own skin in middle age and beyond. See if these searches for self strike a chord in these new and upcoming releases.

PICTURE PERFECT

Tired of asking to see a photo of yourself, only to realize you don't like how you look? We asked a professional photographer for her tips on taking a flattering photo every time.

TEXT MARIE WAINÉ

HOW SHOULD I POSE?

If you've ever frozen in front of the camera or been unsure of what to do with your hands, you aren't alone.

"I always say to people to separate their limbs," says Toronto lifestyle and portrait photographer Erin Leydon. "It's about creating triangles and spaces between your arms and legs and your torso." Try putting a bend in your knee and a hand on your hip or in your pocket. You can also shift your weight to your back leg and pop your hip to create a more interesting silhouette.

HOW DO I AVOID A FAKE-LOOKING SMILE?

"I usually ask people to start fake laughing," says Leydon. Yes, she says, that means saying Ha ha ha.

"It can feel awkward at first, but it usually turns into a real laugh, and you get a genuine smile." Take a few photos that way—the moment in between starting to laugh and ending is usually when you get a genuine smile. If you're wondering whether you should show teeth or not, Leydon says that's a personal preference. "We tell people to pose with a face that represents them the most," she says. "Some people want to be perceived as a little more serious...just be you!"

WANT TO SNAP A FLATTERING SELFIE?

HOW DO I GET RID OF A DOUBLE CHIN?

If you're concerned about your jawline, Leydon says it's best to stick your chin out and down rather than lift it, which can throw off your eye level and ability to connect with the camera. "You can also put your tongue to the roof of your mouth, and that really helps with any double-chin worries," says Leydon. She also suggests sitting, if possible, leaning forward and using the same 'chin out and down' advice.

WHAT ANGLE IS BEST?

There's no one-size-fits-all for how to angle your face toward the camera—it's all about learning what you like best for yourself. "Knowing yourself and knowing how to pose is 80 percent of looking good in a photo," says Leydon. If you're wondering what angle works best, or what 'best' even means, Leydon suggests playing around in front of the mirror or going online and watching how-to videos ahead of a photoshoot or event where you'll be in lots of pictures. "Once you get used to it, you'll become much more comfortable with yourself and more confident, too," she says.

HOW CAN I FEEL MORE COMFORTABLE IN FRONT OF THE CAMERA?

When we look at ourselves in the mirror, we usually hold our head a certain way, maybe purse our lips or even bring a shoulder forward—we're constantly working to see ourselves how we want to be seen. "Taking a photo is all about how other people see you—the real you, which is an even better version anyway," says Leydon. Start to get used to the way you naturally move and how you look when a mirror isn't in front of you. "The more comfortable you are with yourself, the better you'll feel in photos."

HOW CAN I STRESS LESS ABOUT TAKING PICTURES?

"A lot of people get really in their heads about having a photo taken," says Leydon. Whether it's for work or for posting on social media, we put a lot of pressure on ourselves to look our best in an unnatural situation. The comparison game we play doesn't help. "We're all inclined to think so negatively about ourselves, but having your picture taken should be a fun experience," she says. If you need to get in a positive headspace before an event where you know the flash will be going off nonstop, Leydon suggests quick meditation. It's about being in a happy mood and letting that shine through. "Remember to see the process as a learning experience," she says. And if the photo doesn't turn out exactly how you want it to? "Try, try again."

CHECK YOUR LIGHTING

Don't put your back to the window. "See where the sun is in the sky and position yourself with that light on you," says photographer Erin Leydon.

PLAY WITH ANGLES

Leydon says to turn your face in a circle, like a clock, to find what angle best shows off the features you want to play up.

USE THE MAIN CAMERA INSTEAD OF SELFIE MODE

Healthy DOES IT

While we love a spring deep clean, harsh chemicals can leave a lingering smell, and some commonly used ingredients have even been proven to disrupt our hormones. All these things are a no-go when we're trying to be healthier and more eco-conscious. The next time you're on the hunt for new home and personal-care products, try one of these nontoxic options.

TEXT MARIE WAINE

THE WHOLE HOUSE

This multipurpose cleaner is diluted with water to make all-purpose, bathroom and streak-free solutions in reusable spray bottles. It's fragrance-free, plant- and mineral-based and biodegradable, making it safe for use everywhere from the kitchen to your pet's favourite toy.

Branch Basics CLEANING ESSENTIALS KIT, $96, naturesante.ca.

SHAMPOO & CONDITIONER

Not only is Prose phthalate- and sulfate-free (they can dry out your hair and irritate your scalp), it's also customizable to you. Take the brand's online quiz to answer questions that range from how oily your hair is to how often you heat-style—you'll receive a formula recommendation that addresses your specific needs.

PROSE Custom Shampoo and Conditioner, $40 each, prose.com.

DISHWASHER

Many eco-friendly dishwashing detergents struggle to remove stuck-on food, but not Puracy. These chlorine bleach-, SLES- and phosphate-free pods will leave your dishes spotless without any film or residue. BONUS: The packaging for each pod is biodegradable, too!

Did you know that how you sleep affects symptoms of acid reflux and gastroesophageal reflux (GERD)? Here are some science-backed tips so you can sleep easy.

- ✓ Wait two to three hours after eating before lying down; acid reflux worsens when reclining because gravity no longer helps keep stomach acid down.
- ✓ If you're a side-sleeper, starting out on the left side can reduce exposure of stomach acid to the esophagus.
- ✓ Elevating the head of the bed (not just the pillows under your head) can help relieve GERD symptoms.

Good health with ghee

Ghee has been used in traditional Ayurvedic medicine and South Asian and Middle Eastern cuisines for millennia. This superfood is a type of clarified butter, but the process sets it apart. Ghee is made at a lower temperature than other clarified butters, which helps to maintain its nutrient profile. While more research into ghee's potential health benefits is needed, studies suggest that there is more to learn, especially as a carrier for other healthful herbs. Here, we tell you all you need to know about adding ghee to your diet.

TEXT MADELEINE LAVIN

THE BENEFITS

Go for Ghee

While ghee and butter have very similar nutrient profiles, there are some key differences that might make ghee your new go-to oil. Milk solids found in butter are removed through the clarifying process, which means it contains extremely low levels of lactose and casein—milk sugars and proteins—making it a good choice for those who are lactose intolerant. Ghee also has a higher smoke point than butter and some seed and nut oils, which means it can withstand higher temperatures before the fat begins to break down, giving it the advantage for high-heat frying or sautéing. Since it is pure fat, ghee keeps longer than butter and does not need to be refrigerated; however, like coconut oil, it may become solid when stored at cooler temperatures. As with butter and other fats, ghee should be consumed in moderation.

Nourishing Nutrients

Ghee is a rich source of many nutrients, including healthy fats, antioxidants and vitamins. Many of its health benefits can be attributed to omega-3 and -6 fatty acid content, which are linked to better digestion, immune function and brain health. Fatty acids also contribute to anti-inflammatory and antioxidant activity in the body. Ghee is a good source of many vitamins, including vitamins A, D, E and K. Studies show that eating fat-rich foods like ghee increase the bioavailability of certain vitamins and minerals, which helps your body to better absorb nutrients when combined with other healthy foods. Try eating ghee with foods rich in fat-soluble vitamin A, such as fish or squash, to boost the benefits for eyes and skin.

Supple Skin

The same fats, antioxidants and vitamins are also excellent for your skin, whether you apply ghee topically or ingest it. Ghee is a superb natural moisturizer thanks to its high levels of fatty acids. It also contains squalene, an antioxidant and familiar skin-care ingredient, which helps protect the skin from free radicals and oxidative damage. Its vitamin content promotes collagen production and prevents premature aging. What's more? Ghee also been shown to have anti-inflammatory and antibacterial properties that can aid in wound healing.

SALMON KEDGEREE

MAKES 4 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 10 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 30 MINUTES

225 g	skinless salmon fillets
1 tsp	vegetable oil
3/4 tsp	salt, divided
1/4 tsp	pepper, divided
1 tbsp	ghee
1	small onion, chopped
2 tsp	minced ginger
2 tsp	curry power
1/4 tsp	turmeric
3	cardamom pods, broken (optional)
1	bay leaf
1 cup	basmati rice
1 1/2 cups	sodium-reduced chicken broth
1 cup	frozen peas
2 tbsp	chopped fresh cilantro
2 tbsp	chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley
5	hard-cooked eggs, quartered
	chopped fresh dill

Preheat oven to 400°F. On greased baking sheet, brush salmon with oil; sprinkle with half each of the salt and pepper. Bake until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 20 minutes. Flake into about 2-inch chunks; set aside.

Meanwhile, in saucepan, melt ghee over medium heat. Add onion; cook until softened and golden, about 8 minutes.

Stir in ginger, curry powder, turmeric, cardamom pods (if using), bay leaf, and remaining salt and pepper; cook until fragrant, about 30 seconds. Stir in rice; cook, stirring constantly, for 1 minute.

Add broth; bring to boil. Cover and reduce heat; simmer until rice is tender and liquid has evaporated, about 20 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in peas, cilantro and parsley; let stand, covered, for 2 minutes. Discard bay leaf. Gently stir in salmon. Transfer mixture to serving platter; arrange eggs on top. Sprinkle with chopped fresh dill before serving.

PER SERVING about 413 cal, 23 g pro, 15 g total fat (5 g sat. fat), 45 g carb, 222 mg chol, 765 mg sodium.

IN good balance

Concerned about your sugar intake? Read on for our expert guide on how to maintain optimal blood sugar levels.

TEXT EMILY SZATROWSKI, RD

Keeping your blood sugar balanced is key to feeling your best and supporting your overall health. Steady blood sugar levels help you maintain consistent energy throughout the day, support mood stability and reduce the risk of chronic conditions like type 2 diabetes and heart disease.

Blood sugar isn't just a concern for people with diabetes. When we eat carbs, they break down into glucose (sugar) that enters the bloodstream. Insulin, a hormone made by the pancreas, moves glucose from the blood into the cells to use for energy or store for later. For most people without diabetes, blood sugar stays in a healthy range, managed naturally by hormones, and the small fluctuations before and after eating are not detrimental to health.

However, when someone frequently consumes foods or drinks that cause sharp increases in blood sugar, the pancreas must release large amounts of insulin to lower the blood sugar quickly. Over time, this can lead to insulin resistance, whereby the body's cells become less responsive to insulin, forcing the pancreas to produce even more insulin to achieve the same effect.

As insulin resistance worsens, the pancreas struggles to keep up with the demand for insulin. Eventually, blood sugar levels remain high, leading to prediabetes. If the pancreas can no longer produce enough insulin to control blood sugar, type 2 diabetes develops. So as a healthy person without the disease, learning about what affects your blood sugar may help you prevent developing type 2 diabetes.

Even without diabetes, big swings in blood sugar can leave you with low energy, cravings, intense hunger, brain fog and fatigue. Remember that morning when you grabbed a doughnut and a sugary coffee? It probably gave you a quick energy boost but had you crashing by mid-morning. Low blood sugar can feel like hunger, dizziness or a bad mood, making it tempting to reach for more sugar and start the cycle again. Avoiding that blood sugar rollercoaster is all about balance.

Try these practical strategies to help you maintain steady blood sugar levels, so you can feel energized and focused all day.

1. Build balanced meals

Balanced meals containing protein, healthy fats and fibre are your best allies for stable blood sugar.

PROTEIN Takes the body longer to digest, which slows the emptying of the stomach into the small intestine, thereby helping to moderate the release of glucose into the bloodstream. Some great sources of protein include chicken, fish, seafood, beef, pork, eggs, beans, lentils, chickpeas, tofu, nuts, milk, cheese, yogurt and cottage cheese.

FAT Delays stomach emptying, moderating glucose release into your bloodstream. Try avocados, nuts, seeds and olive oil.

FIBRE Slows digestion of carbs, preventing blood sugar spikes. Load up on vegetables, fruits, whole grains, legumes, nuts and seeds. Bonus: Fibre supports gut health and keeps you feeling satiated.

Carbohydrates are not “unhealthy,” and it’s totally unnecessary to eliminate them from our diets.

Choose complex carbs over refined carbs

As already mentioned, carbohydrates are the macronutrient that affects blood sugar most because they break down into glucose.

But not all carbs are created equal. Complex carbs contain more fibre, protein and/or fat, plus other nutrients, compared to refined carbs (aka simple carbs). Complex carbs are often whole foods, such as beans, lentils, chickpeas, quinoa, barley, brown rice and starchy vegetables like squash and corn. They help keep your blood sugar stable by slowing digestion and promoting a gradual release of glucose into the bloodstream, giving you long-lasting energy.

Refined carbohydrates—white bread, pastries, sugary cereals and drinks—are generally more processed and often contain added sugars.

Carbohydrates are not “unhealthy,” and it’s totally unnecessary to eliminate them from our diets to maintain balanced blood sugars. Our bodies and brains need carbs to function. However, choosing complex carbs over refined ones more often will support more balanced blood sugar levels. But, there is still room in a healthy diet for some refined carbs.

Avoid “naked” carbs

When you eat refined carbohydrates on their own they’re often referred to as “naked” carbs. To moderate the blood sugar spike from naked carbs try “dressing them up” with protein, fat and/or fibre. For example, instead of eating crackers on their own, try adding cheese or nut butter for protein or avocado for healthy fats to make the snack more balanced and blood sugar-friendly.

4.

Manage stress and sleep

When you're stressed, your body releases hormones like cortisol, which signals the liver to release stored glucose for quick energy. Over time, chronic stress can lead to elevated blood sugar levels and increase the risk of insulin resistance.

Poor sleep disrupts hormones, such as leptin and ghrelin, that regulate hunger and satiety and make it harder to manage cravings and appetite. Insufficient rest also impairs insulin sensitivity, meaning your body doesn't use glucose as effectively, leading to higher blood sugar levels.

DO I NEED A WEARABLE GLUCOSE MONITOR?

Wearable continuous glucose monitors (CGMs) have started gaining attention recently. A CGM is a small device worn on your arm that connects to a smartphone app and tracks blood sugar levels in real time. Originally designed for people with diabetes, these devices are now being marketed to non-diabetic individuals who are curious about their blood sugar patterns.

For some people, CGMs can provide valuable insights, showing how specific meals, snacks or activities affect their blood sugar. However, they aren't necessary for all of us. Balanced eating habits, regular meals and the other strategies shared in this article are typically enough to keep blood sugar levels stable for the average person.

Focus on consistent meal and snack spacing

Skipping meals or going long periods without eating can lead to blood sugar dips, leaving you feeling fatigued and irritable. This often triggers cravings for quick, sugary fixes, which can send your blood sugar on a rollercoaster.

Aim to eat consistently every three to four hours to keep blood sugar steady. Planning ahead is key, especially on busy days. Snacks also play an important role in bridging the gap between meals and keeping blood sugar balanced. Keep portable snack options on hand to ensure you stay nourished and avoid long gaps between meals. Pair protein with fibre for sustained energy. For example, an apple with nut butter, hummus with veggie sticks, or a handful of trail mix that contains nuts and seeds are excellent choices.

It's also worth noting that CGMs can have drawbacks, including their cost and the risk of becoming overly focused on every fluctuation, which could lead to unnecessary stress around food choices. Even for people with diabetes, constantly monitoring and fixating on blood glucose can trigger or exacerbate disordered eating.

Balancing blood sugars is nuanced—it's not just about cutting carbs or avoiding sugar. And there's no one-size-fits-all approach. Everyone's body responds differently to various factors, so learning about your own body and what works for you is key. But with simple, intentional habits, you can support balanced blood sugars, steady energy, better focus and overall well-being.

Make water your go-to beverage, and aim to drink it consistently throughout the day.

Stay hydrated—but watch out for sugary drinks

Hydration is often overlooked but plays a significant role in blood sugar balance.

Dehydration can concentrate blood glucose levels, making it harder for your body to regulate them. Make water your go-to beverage, and aim to drink it consistently throughout the day, shooting for eight to 12 glasses. Sugary beverages like pop, juice, energy drinks and flavoured coffee drinks cause significant blood sugar spikes because their high-sugar content and liquid form means the sugar enters your bloodstream super quickly.

NEED A REFRESHER ON WHAT FOODS CONTAIN CARBS?

HERE ARE SOME EXAMPLES OF COMMON CARBOHYDRATE SOURCES.

- Grains (bread, rice, pasta, oats)
- Fruits (apples, bananas, oranges, berries, watermelon)
- Starchy vegetables (potatoes, sweet potatoes, corn, peas, squash)
- Dairy (milk, yogurt)
- Legumes (beans, lentils, chickpeas)
- Snacks and sweets (cookies, chips, candy, cakes, pastries, jams, jellies, honey)
- Beverages (juice, pop, iced tea, chocolate milk, flavoured coffee drinks, oat milk)

7.

Move your body after meals

Physical activity is one of the most effective ways to help manage blood sugar. Movement increases your cells' sensitivity to insulin, allowing them to use glucose more efficiently. Going for a 30-minute walk after a meal can significantly reduce your blood sugar response to that meal (heck, even 10 minutes is shown to have a positive effect!). Any type of movement is great, whether that's lifting weights, dancing, playing with your kids or doing housework. The key is finding something enjoyable and sustainable.

SKY'S the LIMIT

Often an expanse of blank space, the ceiling can be designed to create a visual impact and transform the aesthetic of a room. Here are five ways to upgrade this often underutilized “fifth wall” of your space.

1. EMBRACE COLOUR

A common concern is that colour on the ceiling will overwhelm a room and make it look smaller, but when done the right way, it can truly elevate the space. Try painting your ceiling the same shade as the walls to create visual continuity and give the impression of a larger and more harmonious room, no matter what colour you choose.

PAPER, PLEASE

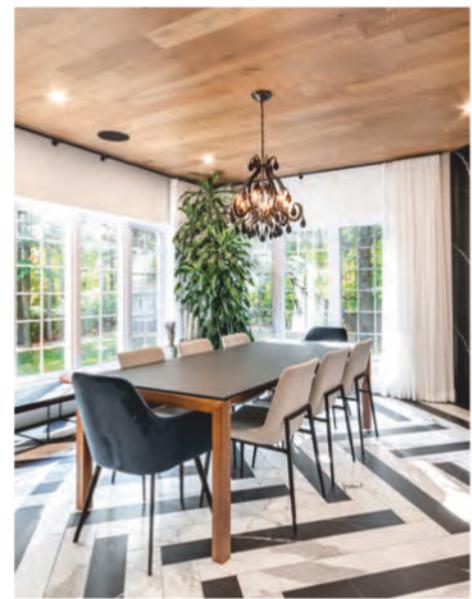

Applying wallpaper to the ceiling may seem daring, but this unorthodox trick transforms the atmosphere of a room in the blink of an eye. The pattern or design you decide on can go a long way in driving home the desired style. For example, abstract or watercolour wallpaper done in neutral shades can evoke a bohemian or romantic vibe, while a variety emblazoned with geometric designs lends a chic Art Deco theme.

3. MAKE WAY FOR WOOD

If you're looking for texture, warmth and personality, add wood to your ceiling. Large wooden beams offer volume and a dramatic flair to a space, and look especially great when installed on higher ceilings. For a similar look that takes up less space, opt for wood paneling. Whether you choose narrow strips or wide panels, the result is sleek and makes great use of a commonly overlooked part of the home. Keep the wood natural for a heritage look or paint it for a modern aesthetic.

MORE MOLDING

For a classic and timeless appeal, opt for molding on the ceiling. Molding instantly adds character, with the bonus of being affordable and easy to install. From minimalist farmhouse panels to intricate Victorian-style filigree, there's no shortage of options to fit your personal style. A simple design of parallel lines can bring structure to an otherwise plain area, while detailed crown molding adds a decorative architectural flourish to the home. After it's installed, paint the molding the same colour as the rest of the ceiling to maintain a unified appeal.

5.

ADD A FOCAL POINT

Adorning the ceiling with one major element directs the eye to that area and gives the space a centrepiece. For example, a large plaster medallion with a chandelier can be placed in the middle of the room to add balance, or above a dining table in an open-plan design to draw attention to a dedicated space.

NUTS ABOUT PISTACHIOS

Enjoy these tasty nuts sprinkled on roasted veggies or as the main attraction in an irresistible dessert.

ROASTED CARROTS WITH SPICY HONEY & PISTACHIOS

MAKES 4 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 10 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 35 MINUTES

1/4 cup	unsalted butter
1/4 cup	liquid honey
3	cloves garlic, chopped
3/4 tsp	hot pepper flakes
1/4 tsp	ground cumin
pinch	ground coriander
750 g	Nantes carrots, with tops, if possible
	salt and pepper
1/4 cup	chopped fresh curly parsley
1/4 cup	chopped shelled roasted pistachios

Preheat oven to 400°F; line large baking sheet with parchment paper. Set aside.

In large skillet, melt butter over medium heat. Add honey, garlic, hot pepper flakes, cumin and coriander; cook, stirring often, for 1 minute. Turn off heat, add carrots and season with salt and pepper. Using tongs, toss to coat. Arrange carrots in single layer on prepared baking sheet. (Reserve spiced honey-butter in skillet.) Roast on upper rack of oven, stirring halfway through roasting time, until carrots are tender-crisp, 20 to 25 minutes. Transfer carrots to serving dish and drizzle with reserved spiced honey-butter. Sprinkle with parsley and pistachios.

PER SERVING about 290 cal, 4 g pro, 14 g total fat (8 g sat. fat), 38 g carb (7 g dietary fibre, 26 g sugar), 30 mg chol, 250 mg sodium, 1.3 mg iron.

PISTACHIO BAKLAVA

MAKES 16 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 30 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 3 1/4 HOURS

1 cup shelled unsalted pistachios
1/3 cup icing sugar
1/2 tsp cinnamon
3/4 cup unsalted butter (approx)
1/2 450 g pkg phyllo dough, thawed but cold (21 sheets)
Honey Syrup (recipe, this page) finely ground shelled unsalted pistachios

In food processor, pulse whole pistachios, icing sugar and cinnamon until consistency of coarse powder; set aside. Grease 7-inch square cake pan; set aside.

Melt butter in large microwavable measuring cup. Place stack of phyllo dough sheets on work surface; using sharp knife, slice lengthwise down centre. Remove excess dough to obtain two 7-inch squares of phyllo sheets. Place damp cloth over stacks of dough to prevent drying out. Preheat oven to 350°F.

Place one sheet of phyllo in prepared cake pan; brush with melted butter. Repeat with six sheets of phyllo and melted butter (gently warm the butter and add a little, if necessary). Spread half of the pistachio mixture over phyllo in pan. Top with seven layers of phyllo, layering with butter. Spread remaining pistachio mixture over sheets in pan. Top with remaining phyllo sheets, layering with butter.

Using sharp serrated knife and a ruler, cut into 16 squares. Bake until golden brown, about 40 minutes.

Remove baklava from oven and run knife through previously cut lines to separate pieces. Pour Honey Syrup over top. Sprinkle with ground pistachios. Let stand for at least 2 hours before serving. (Make-ahead: Can be stored in airtight container at room temperature for up to 4 days.)

PER SERVING about 210 cal, 3 g pro, 12 g total fat (6 g sat. fat), 22 g carb (1 g dietary fibre, 13 g sugar), 25 mg chol, 140 mg sodium, 0.8 mg iron.

Honey Syrup In small saucepan, bring 1/3 cup honey, 1/3 cup water, 1/3 cup granulated sugar, 1 tbsp lemon juice and pinch cinnamon to boil over high heat, whisking constantly. Reduce heat to low and simmer, stirring occasionally, for 5 minutes. Remove from heat; let cool slightly. Makes about 1 cup.

HERB COUSCOUS WITH CHICKEN, CARROTS & TAHINI SAUCE

MAKES 4 SERVINGS

1 3/4 cups	sodium-reduced chicken broth, divided
1 cup	couscous
1/4 cup	chopped mixed fresh herbs (basil, parsley, chives, etc.)
1 tbsp	olive oil
1 tbsp	unsalted butter
4	medium carrots, peeled and chopped
1	onion, quartered
2 to 3	chicken breasts, thinly sliced
1 tbsp	Montreal Steak Spice

2 tbsp liquid honey
salt and pepper
mixed greens
Tahini Sauce (recipe, this page)

Preheat oven to 450°F. In saucepan, bring 1 1/4 cups of the chicken broth to boil. Stir in couscous; remove from heat, cover and let stand for 10 minutes. Fluff with fork and stir in chopped fresh herbs. Set aside.

Meanwhile, in large ovenproof skillet, heat oil and butter over high heat. Add carrots, onion, chicken and Montreal steak spice. Cook, stirring often, for 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Add honey and remaining broth; season with salt and pepper, stirring to combine. Bake on upper rack of oven for 18 to 20 minutes.

Divide couscous among plates. Top with chicken mixture and mixed greens. Drizzle with Tahini Sauce.

MEATLOAF BURGERS

MAKES 4 SERVINGS

1 tbsp	olive oil
1/2	onion, chopped
2	cloves garlic, chopped
375 g	lean ground beef
1	egg
1/2 cup	Italian bread crumbs
1/4 cup	2% milk
1/2 cup	grated Parmesan cheese
2 tbsp	chopped fresh basil
1 tbsp	Dijon mustard
salt and pepper
1/3 cup	ketchup
2 tbsp	packed brown sugar
4	burger buns, separated
4	slices Cheddar cheese (or Swiss cheese)
	coleslaw (optional)

Preheat oven to 450°F; line baking sheet with parchment paper. Set aside.

In skillet, heat oil over medium-high heat. Add onion and garlic; cook, stirring often, for 2 minutes. Remove from heat.

In bowl, combine ground beef, egg, bread crumbs, milk, Parmesan, basil, Dijon and onion-garlic mixture. Season with salt and pepper, mixing until combined. Form mixture into four burger patties and place on one side of prepared baking sheet. Bake for 10 to 12 minutes.

In bowl, stir together ketchup and brown sugar. Season with salt and pepper. Set aside.

During the last few minutes of baking, place buns on remaining half of baking sheet.

Place one slice of cheese on bottom half of each bun. Place patties on top and cover with ketchup mixture. Top with coleslaw, if using, and top halves of burger buns.

PISSALADIÈRE

MAKES 6 TO 8 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 20 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 11/2 HOURS

2 tbsp	olive oil (approx)
2 tbsp	unsalted butter
3	large Spanish onions, thinly sliced
1	sprig rosemary (approx)
1	sprig thyme (approx)
1	bay leaf
2	cloves garlic, finely chopped
salt and pepper
1 sheet	store-bought frozen puff pastry, thawed (half of 400 g pkg)
1	ripe tomato, diced
10	anchovy fillets
12	large black olives, pitted
arugula
	chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley

In saucepan, heat oil and butter over medium-low heat. Add onions, rosemary, thyme and bay leaf; cook, stirring occasionally, for 30 minutes. Reduce heat to low; cook, stirring occasionally, until liquid has evaporated, about 15 minutes. In the last 2 minutes of cooking, add garlic, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper; discard herb stems and bay leaf. Remove from heat; let cool.

Preheat oven to 375°F. On lightly floured sheet of parchment paper, using rolling pin, roll out dough into a 9- x 13-inch rectangle. Prick dough all over using fork. Carefully transfer parchment paper and dough to large baking sheet. Top dough with caramelized onions, diced tomato, anchovies and olives. Bake until golden brown, 20 to 25 minutes. Garnish with arugula and parsley; cut into slices and serve with a drizzle of olive oil.

BEEF PAUPIETTES IN TOMATO & MUSHROOM SAUCE

MAKES 4 TO 6 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 30 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 11/2 HOURS

1	small onion, finely chopped
1	clove garlic, chopped
250 g	lean ground beef
250 g	ham, chopped
1	egg, beaten
1/4 cup	dried bread crumbs
2 tbsp	chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley (approx)
2 tsp	chopped fresh thyme
salt and pepper
8	thin slices beef (approx 6 x 6 inches)
1/4 cup	olive oil
227 g	white mushrooms, halved
1/2 cup	dry white wine (such as Côtes de Provence)
2 tbsp	tomato paste
1	796 ml can diced tomatoes
2 cups	demi-glacé
1 tsp	herbes de Provence
1	bay leaf
1	sprig rosemary

In bowl, combine onion, garlic, ground beef, ham, egg, bread crumbs, parsley and thyme. Season with salt and pepper, mixing until combined.

Place about 1/4 cup ground beef mixture on each slice of beef. Wrap beef slice around filling. Using butcher's twine, tie up paupiettes. In large skillet with lid, heat olive oil over medium-high heat. Cook paupiettes, turning halfway through cooking time, until browned, about 2 minutes. Transfer to plate; set aside.

In same skillet, add mushrooms; cook, stirring halfway through cooking time, until browned, 3 to 4 minutes. Stir in wine; cook, stirring often, until liquid has reduced by half, 2 to 3 minutes. Add tomato paste, tomatoes, demi-glacé, herbes de Provence, bay leaf and rosemary; bring to boil. Season with salt and pepper; reduce heat to low. Add reserved paupiettes; cover and cook for 30 minutes. Remove lid; cook until sauce has thickened slightly, about 15 minutes. Remove twine from paupiettes. Sprinkle with chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley and serve with roasted potatoes, if desired.

PASTIS LANDAIS

MAKES 6 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 15 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 2 HOURS

- | | |
|------------------|--|
| 2 tsp | active dry yeast |
| 1/2 cup | 2% milk, warm |
| 3 | eggs |
| 1/3 cup | unsalted butter, melted |
| zest of 1 orange | |
| 2 tbsp | dark rum |
| 1 tbsp | orange blossom water
(see Test Kitchen Tip) |
| pinch | nutmeg |
| 1/2 cup | golden cane sugar
(or maple sugar flakes) |
| 2 cups | all-purpose flour |
| 2 tbsp | pearl sugar (or granulated sugar) |

In large bowl, gently stir yeast with milk. Let stand for 5 minutes. Grease 8-inch fluted brioche pan (or deep 8-inch round cake pan); set aside.

To bowl with yeast-milk mixture, add eggs, butter, orange zest, rum, orange blossom water, nutmeg and cane sugar. Using electric mixer on medium speed, beat mixture for 5 minutes. Reduce speed to low; add flour, a little at a time, until batter is thick. Scrape into prepared brioche pan and cover with cloth. Let rise in warm, draft-free space for about 1 hour.

Preheat oven to 350°F. Sprinkle batter with pearl sugar. Bake until cake tester inserted in centre of cake comes out clean, 35 minutes. Let cool for 10 minutes; gently unmold cake. Slice and serve drizzled with honey. (Make-ahead: Can be wrapped in plastic wrap and stored at room temperature for up to 4 days.)

LOADED CHICKEN NOODLE SOUP

MAKES 4 TO 6 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 10 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 30 MINUTES

- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 1/2 onion, chopped
- 2 carrots, sliced
- 2 stalks celery, sliced
- 2 to 3 cloves garlic, chopped
- 8 to 10 cups sodium-reduced chicken broth
- 250 g spaghetti
- 1 leek, thinly sliced (white and pale green parts only)
- 2 cups fresh baby spinach
- 1 cup frozen green peas
- 3 cups shredded roasted chicken
- salt and pepper
- diced cooked pancetta
- chopped fresh curly parsley
- chopped fresh thyme
- toasted pita triangles (optional)

In large saucepan, heat oil over medium-high heat. Add onion, carrots and celery; cook, stirring often, for 3 minutes. Add garlic; continue cooking, stirring often, for 1 minute.

Stir in broth; bring to boil. Reduce heat to medium; simmer, stirring occasionally, for 8 to 10 minutes. Add spaghetti, cook until al dente and vegetables are tender, 8 to 10 minutes. Stir in leek, spinach and peas; season with salt and pepper. Cook for 1 to 2 minutes. Stir in chicken until heated through. Divide soup among bowls, sprinkle with pancetta, parsley and thyme, and serve with toasted pita, if using.

PER EACH OF 6 SERVINGS about 420 cal, 29 g pro, 14 g total fat (3 g sat. fat), 44 g carb (5 g dietary fibre, 7 g sugar), 65 mg chol, 1,025 mg sodium, 4.6 mg iron.

TEST KITCHEN TIP

You can buy store-bought roast chicken or, if you have more time, cook a whole chicken in a large saucepan of water with vegetables and herbs, letting it simmer over low heat for 2 to 3 hours. In addition to very tender meat, you will also have made a delicious chicken broth (defat the broth and filter before using it in the soup).

HAZELNUT & PRUNE SPREAD

MAKES 2 CUPS
HANDS-ON TIME 20 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 21 MINUTES

1 cup	peeled raw hazelnuts (or 3/4 cup store-bought hazelnut butter, see Test Kitchen Tip)
3/4 cup	packed dried prunes, roughly chopped
2 tbsp	cocoa powder
2 tbsp	liquid honey
1/4 tsp	salt
	toasted whole wheat bread

Preheat oven to 350°F; line baking sheet with parchment paper. Spread hazelnuts on baking sheet; bake until golden and fragrant, 10 to 12 minutes.

Transfer hot hazelnuts to blender; purée, scraping down sides of blender occasionally, until smooth butter forms, 5 to 7 minutes.

In small saucepan, cook prunes and 1 1/4 cups water over low heat until prunes have softened, 4 to 5 minutes. Transfer prunes and cooking water to blender. Add cocoa powder, honey and salt. Purée, scraping down sides as needed, until smooth. (Make-ahead: Can be stored in airtight container and refrigerated for up to 2 weeks.) Serve on toasted whole wheat bread.

ROASTED CARROTS & HAZELNUTS WITH BARLEY RISOTTO

MAKES 4 SERVINGS

HANDS-ON TIME 25 MINUTES

TOTAL TIME 1 HOUR 25 MINUTES

Roasted Carrots & Hazelnuts

10	Nantes carrots, peeled, cut in 1/2-inch rounds
1	small onion, cut in 8 wedges
2	whole garlic cloves, unpeeled
2 tbsp	olive oil
2 cups	sodium-reduced chicken broth
1/4 tsp	ground cumin
3 tbsp	crushed roasted hazelnuts
3 tbsp	chopped fresh chives
	salt and pepper

Barley Risotto

2 tbsp	olive oil
2	shallots, chopped
1 1/4 cups	pearl barley, rinsed
2 cups	sodium-reduced chicken broth
	reserved carrot purée (see above) salt
	freshly ground pepper
1 1/4 cups	grated Parmesan cheese (approx)
3 tbsp	unsalted butter

Roasted Carrots & Hazelnuts Preheat oven to 400°F; line baking sheet with parchment paper. Place carrot slices, onion and garlic on prepared baking sheet. Drizzle with oil and season with salt and pepper. Roast, stirring halfway through roasting time, for 25 minutes.

When cool enough to handle, squeeze garlic out of peel and place in small saucepan. Add onions, 1/2 cup of the carrots, and the chicken broth. Bring to boil; cook, stirring occasionally, for 5 minutes. Transfer to blender and pulse until smooth; set aside.

Place remaining carrots in bowl. Sprinkle with cumin, hazelnuts and chives; toss to combine. Season with salt and pepper; set aside.

Barley Risotto In large deep skillet, heat oil over low heat. Add shallots; cook, stirring often, for 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in barley; cook, stirring often, for 1 minute. Stir in broth and 1 cup water. Cook over medium-low heat, stirring occasionally, until liquid has almost completely evaporated, about 20 minutes.

Increase heat to medium-high; add reserved carrot purée and cook, stirring often, for 5 minutes. Season with salt and pepper; stir in cheese and butter until smooth. Divide risotto among bowls and top with Roasted Carrots & Hazelnuts, and grated Parmesan, if using. Season generously with pepper.

PER SERVINGS about 650 cal, 19 g pro, 35 g total fat (13 g sat. fat), 64 g carb (14 g dietary fibre, 8 g sugar), 50 mg chol, 1,300 mg sodium, 4.5 mg iron.

PAPPARDELLE LENTIL BOLOGNESE

MAKES 6 TO 8 SERVINGS

HANDS-ON TIME 30 MINUTES

TOTAL TIME 1 3/4 HOURS

3 tbsp	olive oil
1	medium onion, finely chopped
4	cloves garlic, chopped

1	156 ml can tomato paste
2 1/2 cups	vegetable broth
4	bay leaves
1/2 tsp	hot pepper flakes
2 tsp	Italian herb seasoning
1	796 ml can crushed tomatoes
2	large carrots, peeled and finely diced
2 to 3	stalks celery, finely diced
20	fresh basil leaves (approx)
1 1/2 cups	dry small green lentils, rinsed
	Parmesan rind (optional)
	granulated sugar (optional)
	salt and pepper
	cooked pappardelle (or high-fibre pasta made from legumes, soy or konjac)
	grated Parmesan cheese (optional)

In large, heavy-bottomed saucepan, heat oil over medium heat. Add onion; cook, stirring often, for 5 minutes. Add garlic; cook, stirring often, for 2 minutes.

Increase heat to high, stir in tomato paste and cook, stirring constantly, until tomato paste is lightly browned, 2 to 3 minutes. Add broth, bay leaves, hot pepper flakes, Italian seasoning, tomatoes, carrots, celery, basil and lentils, and Parmesan rind, if using; bring to boil. Reduce heat to medium-low and cook, uncovered, stirring a few times during cooking time, until lentils are very tender, about 1 hour. Sprinkle with sugar if sauce is too acidic. Season with salt and pepper. Serve over cooked high-fibre pasta and sprinkle with fresh basil leaves and Parmesan, if using.

PER EACH OF 8 SERVINGS (excluding pasta) about 225 cal, 10 g pro, 6 g total fat (1 g sat. fat), 33 g carb (7 g dietary fibre, 7 g sugar), 0 mg chol, 250 mg sodium, 3.6 mg iron.

CHICKEN MEATBALLS WITH CILANTRO CREAM SAUCE

MAKES 4 SERVINGS
HANDS-ON TIME 15 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 40 MINUTES

Chicken Meatballs

450 g ground chicken
2/3 cup dried bread crumbs
1 egg
2 cloves garlic, finely chopped
1 green onion, finely chopped
1/4 cup chopped fresh cilantro
1 tbsp lime juice
1 tbsp olive oil
2 tsp Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp ground cumin
1 tsp smoked paprika
1/2 tsp dried oregano
salt and pepper

Cilantro Cream Sauce

1/2 cup nonfat Greek yogurt
1/2 cup mayonnaise
zest and juice of 1 lime
1 cup lightly packed fresh cilantro (approx)
2 green onions, cut in sections
2 to 3 cloves garlic, roughly chopped
1 tbsp olive oil
green hot sauce (optional)
salt and pepper
sliced jalapeño pepper
lime wedges (optional)

Chicken Meatballs Preheat oven to 400°F; line baking sheet with parchment paper. Set aside.

In large bowl, mix chicken, bread crumbs, egg, garlic, green onion, cilantro, lime juice, olive oil, Worcestershire sauce, cumin, paprika and oregano until combined. Season with salt and pepper. Using your hands, form mixture into 1 tbsp balls. Place meatballs 1/2 inch apart on prepared baking sheet. Bake on top rack of oven until chicken is cooked through, 20 to 22 minutes. (Make-ahead: Can be stored in airtight container and refrigerated for up to 4 days or frozen for up to 3 months.)

Cilantro Cream Sauce Meanwhile, in blender, purée yogurt, mayonnaise, lime zest and juice, cilantro, green onions, garlic and olive oil, and hot sauce, if using, on high speed until smooth. Season with salt and pepper. (Make-ahead: Can be stored in airtight container and refrigerated for up to 3 days.)

Spoon some Cilantro Cream Sauce onto plates; top with Chicken Meatballs. Sprinkle with jalapeño slices and cilantro. Serve with lime wedges, if using, and the remaining Cilantro Cream Sauce.

GREEN PEA PATTIES

MAKES 12 PATTIES
HANDS-ON TIME 10 MINUTES
TOTAL TIME 30 MINUTES

3 cups	frozen peas
3	eggs
1/3 cup	cottage cheese
2 tbsp	chopped fresh flat-leaf parsley
2	green onions, cut in sections
3/4 cup	chickpea flour
1/3 cup	hemp seeds
1 tsp	baking powder
salt and pepper
vegetable oil, for frying
crème fraîche or sour cream
pea shoots (optional)

In saucepan of boiling water, blanch peas for 2 minutes. Transfer peas to bowl of ice water; cool for 1 minute. Drain and set aside.

In blender, add half of the reserved peas, the eggs, cottage cheese, parsley and green onions; purée until smooth.

Transfer puréed mixture to bowl; add chickpea flour, hemp seeds and baking powder. Season with salt and pepper and stir with a spatula until paste forms. Stir in remaining peas.

Add oil to large skillet until it comes about 1/2 inch up side; heat over medium heat. Working in batches, drop pea mixture by 1/4 cupfuls into oil. Cook, turning halfway through cooking time, until patties begin to brown, 4 to 6 minutes. Transfer to plate; cover and keep warm. Repeat with remaining pea mixture (add more oil, if necessary). Serve with crème fraîche and pea shoots, if using.

PER PATTY about 115 cal, 7 g pro, 5 g total fat (1 g sat. fat), 11 g carb (3 g dietary fibre, 3 g sugar), 50 mg chol, 150 mg sodium, 1.6 mg iron.

LEMON POSSETS

MAKES 4 TO 5 SERVINGS

HANDS-ON TIME 20 MINUTES

TOTAL TIME 2 HOURS 20 MINUTES

- | | |
|------------------------------|---|
| 1 | 473 ml carton
35% whipping cream |
| 3/4 cup | granulated sugar |
| 5 tbsp | bottled lemon juice
(see Test Kitchen Tip) |
| whipped cream | |
| grated lemon zest (optional) | |

In medium saucepan, whisk cream and sugar over medium-high heat until boiling. Reduce heat to medium; simmer, whisking constantly, for 5 minutes (lower heat slightly or remove pan from heat momentarily if bubbling more than at a gentle boil).

Remove from heat; whisk in lemon juice. Let stand 10 minutes, then whisk again. Divide mixture among dessert cups, cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate for at least 2 hours. (Make-ahead: Can be refrigerated for up to 3 days.) Top with whipped cream, and lemon zest, if using.

PER EACH OF 5 SERVINGS about 415 cal, 2 g pro, 31 g total fat (20 g sat. fat), 32 g carb (0 g dietary fibre, 32 g sugar), 100 mg chol, 25 mg sodium, 0.1 mg iron.

It's important to use bottled lemon juice in this recipe because its acidity level is consistent, unlike that of fresh lemons. A sufficient acidity level is necessary for the cream to set.
